Su Hart is a Song Leader running UK community choirs in Bath, Bruton and London but she also works internationally. 25 years of visiting Baka Rainforest People in Africa has inspired joyful singing workshops inspired by this unbroken musical culture. Su is initiated by the Baka women to share this singing and royalties go back to them for projects in the forest. These and the other songs Su brings guide singers towards co-operative, listening and rhythm skills and to new singing techniques. See the charity website globalmusicexchange.org and suhart.com
